Emergency Room Alternatives: How You Can Avoid Costly Visits to the ER

A review of our recent plan statistics indicate that more than half of the Emergency Room (ER) visits incurred last year did not require such level of care. As you all know, hospital emergency rooms are some of the most expensive (and frustrating) places on earth to be treated.

Here’s a couple of suggestions for ways to avoid trips to the hospital emergency room:

Think ahead. If you’re suffering from an illness or injury that you think will likely require the services of a medical professional, don’t delay – call your family doctor and see if you can get in to see him/her before they close. If you can’t, consider use of an urgent care facility or on-site physician service like Patient First, Fast Care or Minute Clinic, or even a virtual doctor office visit through LiveHealth Online which is no cost to you (see page 4 for more details). Don’t wait until the middle of the night when you can’t stand it any longer and have no choice but the hospital emergency room.

Look around your neighborhood and identify the location of clinics or doctor offices that maintain extended hours. Most are open until at least 8:00 p.m. even on weekends. While there can be a wait to see the doctor, it’s most often less than what you would experience in a hospital emergency room setting. Plus, the care will be more personal.

Remember, hospital emergency rooms are primarily designed to respond to life-threatening medical conditions. Patients are seen in the order of the severity of their conditions. That means on a busy weekend, you might be sitting there for hours before you receive treatment if your situation isn’t life-threatening. In addition, the time and attention (and even the quality of care) you receive will not be as great as what you would likely receive from your own doctor or urgent care center.

So do yourself a favor and limit the use of the hospital emergency room to those situations where there really is no alternative. By doing so, you will be saving both yourself and the Fund a lot of money – not to mention the aggravation of the ER waiting room!

Unsure of who your Employee Assistance Program (EAP) is?

If you are unsure of who your EAP is, check the back of your medical identification card. If EAP is listed, your EAP is Anthem. If EAP is not listed, your employer provides an EAP. For details on your employer provided EAP, contact your Human Resources department, as the Fund Office does not have this information.

For more information regarding the services provided by Anthem’s Employee Assistance Programs, see the back page of this newsletter.

All vaccinations listed above are covered at 100%, with no cost sharing to the participant, when performed at a participating pharmacy.

Considering Retirement Soon?

Time to start planning!

Are you dreaming of retirement and what you’ll do with all that free time? Thinking about traveling, spending time with family, and taking up new hobbies? Filling up the free time should be the easy part. Planning for your future may not be quite as simple.

If you’re planning to retire soon, you may want schedule an appointment with a Pension Analyst at the Fund Office to discuss your options. Pension Analysts are available to meet with you Monday through Friday, from 8:00AM to 5:30PM. Be sure to call ahead to schedule your appointment so that we have all the proper documentation available to better serve you.

Also, before you commit to retirement, you’ll need to consider what happens if you retire, return to work under Covered Employment, and then retire again. If you choose to do this, keep in mind that you cannot change the election options you selected when you originally retired. For example, if you elected either the Joint and Survivor or Contingent Annuitant benefit, no changes can be made to those elections, if you return to work, then re-retire.

Keep in mind, that if you elected the Joint and Survivor benefit at retirement and your spouse dies before you, your pension will be recalculated to ‘pop up’ to the base amount you would have received had you not retired under the Joint and Survivor Benefit. Remember, retirement is a decision that shouldn’t be taken lightly. Be sure you are well informed before making this decision.

What will I be required to submit when I apply for my pension benefits?

The following documents are required in order to process your pension application:

- Birth certificate (Participant and Spouse)
- Photo ID (Participant and Spouse)
- Marriage license
- Divorce decrees from any previous marriages
- Death certificate of any former spouse

Reminder Regarding Direct Deposit of Pension Benefits

If you are currently receiving your pension benefit by check, you are required to submit an Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT) form by May 18, 2019. Failure to submit an EFT form will result in the suspension of pension benefits. EFT forms are available on our website at tjc83funds.org/pension-forms.asp.
